

Home Sweet Home!

Pennsylvania is home currently to 66 species of wild mammals. They live on the landscape that surrounds our homes. We see them occasionally as they travel to and from their feeding areas and sleeping quarters or bedding areas, and many of us recognize them at first glance. But how well do you know their dens, or homes? Could you match a mammal to its home? Consider the following puzzle as a means to confirm your knowledge about our mammals, or a chance for you to learn something new about them. This puzzle gives you a chance to show off your species identification skills and your ability to identify its home or den. There are six species of mammals on the left. Your task is to identify the species and then select the home this animal uses. Ready to take the challenge? Good luck!
