

Willow Point is a popular spot for observing waterfowl

Hal Korber

Middle Creek Trail (#6) – Begins opposite the dam and follows an abandoned trolley line right-of-way along Middle Creek stream. Connects Elder’s Run Trail near its southern end.

Spicebush Trail (#3) – Starts opposite old Sunfish Pond Dam, follows small stream through wetland and forest. Short sections connect with Valley View Trail. Good for kids.

Conservation Trail (#1) – Loop from Visitors Center, up to a ridge, through forest, field and wetlands. Interpretive brochure is available. Good for kids.

Moderate Trails:

Deer Path Trail (#10) – Traverses a wet woodland between White Oak and Red Rock picnic areas with various openings to the lake.

Fire Line Trail (#8) – Connects loop of Valley View Trail. Also forms connection between Volunteer Trail and Demonstration Plots Trail.

Volunteer Trail (#7) – Connects Valley View and Fire Line Trails to Middle Creek and Horseshoe Trails.

Demonstration Plots Trail (#4) – Flat, easy walk between Fire Line and Elder’s Run Trail. Takes you through a series of forestry demo plots used for educational purposes for different groups.

Willow Point Trail (#2) – Level, paved path to a lakeside vista for observing waterfowl. Note: Closed on waterfowl hunting days.

Visitors Center

The Visitors Center features a variety of displays of waterfowl and other wildlife that inhabit the area. There’s also a viewing area that overlooks the lake and a songbird feeding station. The center also hosts so many programs & activities throughout the year. Current information about programs can be found on the Pennsylvania Game Commission website.

Peak viewing times for waterfowl coincide with the spring and fall migrations. For snow geese, the first week in March is generally the peak for viewing this amazing migration spectacle, when tens of thousands of them descend on the area.

Programs for schools, groups and scouts are available year-round. A brochure detailing educational opportunities can be picked up at the front counter.

The Visitors Center is open from February 1 until the day before Thanksgiving, Tuesday through Saturday, 8am to 4pm, and Sunday, 12 PM to 5pm. Make sure to check out our radio tour! Tune into 1620 AM for a more guided tour of the Wildlife Management Area!
