

Woodchuck

Woodchucks are sometimes called groundhogs. Woodchucks live in holes they dig in the ground called burrows. They can be seen along roads or standing in farm fields. These large rodents eat grass, clover, leaves and fruit.